Flowering Shrubs

Each year flowering shrubs become more important in the plan for home-ground decoration. In formal plantings it is sometimes necessary to limit the quantity, but to obtain the pleasing style of planting most desired, that which simulates the work of nature, shrubs should be used in abundance. It is very simple to arrange them. Although many have their preferences of soil and sunlight, the majority will furnish abundant bloom and hold their foliage under almost any conditions.

Naturally, the blooming season of a shrub is in most cases not prolonged, but many of the varieties in our list have beautiful foliage all through the summer, then change to delightful tones of yellow and scarlet in the fall. This is an advantage which must not be overlooked. Many people plan harmonious autumn tones with as much care as they arrange the shrubs for the summer blooming season. It is a sensible view, inasmuch as it greatly extends the decorative value of the planting.

To obtain the best effects, plant from three to five shrubs of one kind together. By doing so you gain masses of bloom that are far more effective than if single shrubs should stand forth alone. A little experimenting will soon teach you the value of this precept; in fact, a little rearrangement from one year to the next is always to be desired, as it never permits the plantings to become monotonous. Occasional changes serve to keep alive your own interest and likewise keep the beauty of the grounds up to a high standard.

ALTHEA. Rose of Sharon. Plants make an upright growth, with blooms the whole length of the limbs in August and early September. 6 to 10 feet.

Washburn's Quality Grass Seed

Sow about one pound to each 400 square feet, when a new lawn is being started. If an old lawn is to be renovated, about half that quantity may be used. For bare spots in the lawn, apply bone-meal and sheep manure and a slight dusting of lime, raking in seed about a week later.

If seed is to go by mail, add 5 cts. for first pound and 1 ct. for each additional pound for points within 150 miles of Bloomington. For 3d to 8th zones (points beyond 150 miles) add postage at parcel-post rates.

Fancy Kentucky Blue Grass. The foundation of all first-class lawn mixtures; some people prefer to use it alone. Lb. 45 cts., 7 lbs. $2.40, 14 lbs. $4.50.

Sunny Place Mixture. This is the best blending of various grasses to succeed in sunny situations. It produces a heavy turf in a short time. Lb. 45 cts., 7 lbs. $2.50, 14 lbs. $4.85.

Shady Place Mixture. In spots that the sun does not reach, Shady Place Mixture is most successful as it is made up of grass varieties which prefer the shade. Lb. 35 cts., 7 lbs. $1.85, 14 lbs. $3.50.

White Dutch Clover. Valuable for mixing with Kentucky Blue Grass if you care to have more clover in the lawn. Lb. 85 cts., 5 lbs. $3.50.
